

As the bus got closer to the Yellow Mountains, the road started to go uphill and to wind back and forth. The higher the bus climbed, the more steep and winding the road became. Sometimes, the road ran right along the edge of the mountain. Jimmy looked out of the window and saw that the mountain went a long way down.

Jimmy had never been on a high mountain before, and the winding road up the mountainside made him feel funny. He turned to Pat and said, "Do you like this road, darling?"

Travelling along a crooked road in the mountains; very dangerous. You can look down from the road at the river.

